Dear CTSA Member,

On behalf of the board of directors and myself, I'd like to personally thank you for being a valued member of the Central Texas Subcontractors Association. I hope you all are having a successful 2016 and continue that way through the rest of the year. As we prepare for our next membership year starting in July, I'd like to let you know about a new association for CTSA and ask for your support and feedback on how we can be a better, stronger organization.

After much research and discussion, CTSA has decided to become a member of the National Subcontractors Association, NSA, for a one year trial. After breaking away from a previous association, the board of directors was very cautious about making a decision like this. Our members come first and that has always been our priority. We believe that NSA offers our organization many benefits such as member information exchange, attorney council meetings to share ideas, speaker and topic ideas, executive director forums, and legislation discussion to just name a few. Our hopes are that this membership will give the Board of Directors and Wendy avenues for new meeting topics and speakers that will benefit our members and grow our organization on the local level.

With all this said, there are no additional fees to you for us to become a member. The membership fees for NSA are very minimum to what other organizations have asked of us in the past. Our board considered the cost when debating this membership. We believe that in the end, the benefits will outweigh any costs incurred. We've attached an additional document that lists all the new benefits that your company gains from being a part of NSA.

I have been a proud member of CTSA for many years, and now have the privilege of serving as your president. We are strong in numbers, but could always use more. Our current roster is 76 members strong. I hope you will consider contacting those contractors you have personal or working relationships with and invite them to a monthly meeting. The benefits of CTSA membership are diverse and valuable. I've been in my career for almost 20 years, and can tell you I have never seen a trade association as strong as CTSA. More than just a glorified monthly happy hour, CTSA packs a punch when providing member benefits and advocating on behalf of subcontractors rights. Thank you for your membership.

Lastly, the board and I spend a lot of time trying to bring relevant and valuable topics and presentations to each and every monthly meeting. If you have an idea as to what you'd like to hear or learn, or any feedback about our meeting format and presentations, please contact me.

I look forward to seeing you all soon.

Sincerely,

Parker Holt, President
